TMT LEADERSHIP CAMP

Participation

Last week, we went to camp to learn how to lead, participate, and show teamwork. One of the main ideas of the camp was that everyone had to participate, so if you wanted to be a leader you would have to start by participating. In the activities we all had to take part in different ways. For example, we all shared ideas during the talks we had, which was participating. Also in the raft-building we all took part and worked together to build a raft that could float. We all shared ideas and ended up creating a successful raft that could float.

Clare

Teamwork

One of the main focuses was how to work as a team. While we were there one of our first activities was raft building. While raft building I could see the reason why we went to the camp in the first place, Teamwork. I saw everyone help tie the knots, making sure that the raft was firm. Some people needed help and everyone was there for each other. It was probably one of my favourite parts while being at camp.

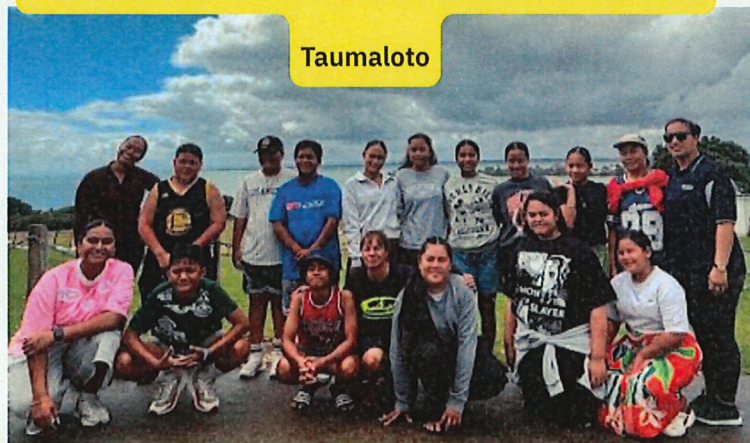

Zaylahnie

Leadership

Another main focus was on leadership and how to be a leader in the Tupulaga unit. While I was there, I learned that being a leader is not just about leading from the front but being at the back to push others to their best. I strive to use those leadership skills I learnt in camp and use it in my class.
